Gracefield Gardens Walk-in Centre closes on 31 March 2017

We want people in Lambeth to be able to see a GP when they need one. We've looked at the best ways to give people appointments and we are making some changes.

On 31 March 2017 the NHS Walk-in Centre in Streatham will close. But don't worry, you can see a GP quickly at your own surgery or at four other surgeries in Lambeth. We have created around 1,500 extra appointments every week in Lambeth. That's on top of what your own GP already provides. A third of these appointments are at the Gracefield Gardens GP Access Hub.

Need to see a GP today or tomorrow?

- Contact your own GP to make an urgent appointment
- If your GP has no appointments available straight away they can book you one at a GP Access Hub, usually on the same day or the next day
- When your GP practice is closed, call their number to hear a message about how to make an appointment
- If you need urgent help call 111
- Call 999 in a life-threatening emergency.

Not registered with a GP?

Having a GP will help you to look after your health, especially if you have ongoing health concerns. Your GP can offer advice and check-ups or referrals to other services if you need them.

It's easy to register. Find your nearest GP using the Health Help Now app - www.healthhelpnow-nhs.net

GP Access Hubs

Our GP Access Hubs are existing GP practices that offer extra appointments to patients from across the borough.

They are open 12-8pm weekdays and 8am to 8pm at weekends. You need to be registered with a Lambeth GP. If your own GP has no appointments they can book you to see a GP or nurse at one of these local practices:
